workers in the so-called helping professions. However, it should not be forgotten that the other party must also be motivated, i.e. pupils or persons with whom direct educational/rehabilitation activities are performed.

Acknowledgements
This article was supported by Catholic University in Ružomberok as a grant KEGA No. 012KU-4/2019.

References

Nayana L.M., Mustiary B.P. (2017). Teacher Motivation and Classroom Teaching a Study with Reference to Teachers of Selected Primary Schools in Mangalore. Sahyadri Journal of Management (SJOM), 1(1), 54–64.

